

THE REYNOLDS FAN: YOU MIGHT BE COLD OUTSIDE...

...but grab a cup of hot cocoa and curl up near a flame for this edition of the Reynolds FAN. We want to make sure you start this new year off right - with information so hot it's on 🔥 fire! 🔥

Class Start Dates

January 11th: Spring Classes begin!
February 2nd: 12 Week Session
February 16th: 10 Week + second 5 week Session
March 9th: Second 7 Week Session
March 30th: Third 5 Week Session

Other Notable Dates

January 4th: First day to charge textbooks to financial aid
January 18th: Martin Luther King Jr. Day (No classes)
March 15th to 20th: Spring Break (No classes)
March 16th: Classified Professional Development Day
(No services)
March 22nd: Last day to charge textbooks to financial aid
May 16th: Graduation!

See the full calendar here

Quick Reminders

2021-2022 Scholarship Application is now open
Each year, hundreds of Reynolds students receive money for tuition, books, and supplies. Click here to apply!

2021-2022 FAFSA is now open
April 15th is the priority deadline. Apply today!

Need help completing the FAFSA? We have virtual First Fridays. Register here! Reynolds's School Code: 003759

Beginning January 12th, payment deadlines will be each Tuesday and Thursday. Be mindful when you register and have a plan in place so you are not dropped.

Don't forget about our monthly Financial Literacy workshop events. For January, we will be discussing how to manage credit. For more information on this workshop, or other financial aid sponsored workshops (including how to register) click here!

What is a drop? What is a withdrawal?

It's important to know the difference between dropping a course vs withdrawing from the course. It's all about timing!

If you decide you no longer want to be enrolled in a course prior to or on the last day to drop a course and receive a refund then you are dropping a course. For example, you have until January 26, 2021 to drop a course for any Regular session coursework this spring! If you decide you no longer want to be enrolled in a Regular session course on January 27th then you would be withdrawing from the course. So how are they different?

Drops

Essentially, dropping a course is acting like a course never happened in the first place. You would...

- be refunded for tuition and fees for the course
- not have the course appear on your academic transcript
- not have the course impact your SAP completion rate
- drop the course in your SIS!

What is SAP exactly? Find out more here!

Withdrawals

Withdrawing from a course will still be part of your student record. To withdraw means...

- you do not qualify for a tuition and fee refund for the course
- the course will appear on your academic transcript
- the course will negatively impact your SAP completion rate
- you would need to submit a withdrawal form as your financial aid may be impacted!

For additional information on withdrawing click here!

Last but not least - check out January's poll question for the month!