Richmond resident appointed to JSRCC Board

Richmond, Va. (March 14, 2008) - Rondle E. Edwards, Ph.D., has been appointed to the J. Sargeant Reynolds Community College Board.

Dr. Edwards has served as an adjunct faculty member at Virginia Commonwealth University, University of Richmond and Old Dominion University. He has also served with the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE) in the evaluation of colleges and universities throughout the nation. Dr. Edwards has earned a national reputation for expertise in education reform and has addressed the U.S. House of Representatives (Committee Hearings) on elementary, secondary, and vocational education.

A native of Richmond, Va., Dr. Edwards received a bachelor of arts degree from Virginia Union University, a masters of arts degree from Virginia State University, and a doctor of philosophy degree from Ohio University. He has engaged in post-doctoral studies at Columbia University and Ohio State University.

Dr. Edwards is a proud father of two daughters, Cassandra (Casey) and Ronda.

Serving over 18,000 students annually, J. Sargeant Reynolds Community College is the youngest and third largest of 23 community colleges in Virginia. The College operates three campuses serving residents in the City of Richmond and the counties of Henrico, Hanover, Goochland, Powhatan and Louisa.
