REYNOLDS LEARNING COMMUNITIES

Two paired classes with shared assignments!

About Reynolds Learning Communities

A learning community (LC) is when two courses in the same semester are strategically linked together and the same students enroll in both courses. This Fall Reynolds has paired up courses in several unique LCs to enrich student learning.

LC Benefits

- Shared assignments and topics—Instructors work to integrate assignments for crossover learning.
- Convenient scheduling—LC classes are typically scheduled back-to-back.
- Support system—The LC structure makes it easier to meet peers, make friends, and get assistance from professors.
- And that's not all—The linked courses can help you meet the requirements for your program at no additional cost!

To enroll, follow these steps:

1. Review the descriptions on pages 2 through 4 and find the LC you would like to take.
